I understand that applications for funds from the Central Nevada Regional Water Authority's ("CNRWA") Water Rights Retirement Program are voluntary and that the CNRWA is under no obligation to accept this or any other offer to sell groundwater right(s), and the acceptance or rejection of any offer is in the sole discretion of the CNRWA. CNRWA may, in its discretion, request such information and conduct all due diligence it deems necessary to consider an application.

I understand that, if this application is approved, the I will need to enter into a binding purchase and sale agreement, comply with CNRWA's reclamation and mitigation plan, and sign a covenant that will prohibit any future irrigation of the above listed acres, except in accordance with the reclamation and mitigation plan approved by CNRWA or under the terms of a permit approved by the Nevada State Engineer that changes an existing right other than the right being retired. The covenant will also prohibit any future subdividing unless certain conditions are met. In Diamond Valley, any future use of the land must be in accordance with the Groundwater Management Plan.

Submission of this application does not bind the Seller or CNRWA. If the CNRWA approves this application, the purchase will be contingent upon a showing of marketable title for the groundwater right(s) to the satisfaction of the CNRWA in its sole discretion, execution of a binding purchase and sale agreement, a restrictive covenant, a grant bargain and sale deed, any forms required by the Nevada Division of Water Resources, and such additional documents that may be required to effectuate the purchase.

I affirm that I have the legal right to offer the above groundwater right(s) for sale.
